Whether you're transitioning now or transitioned some time ago, we know you have a lot of health care options. Fortunately, we have information that can help. Your service gave the nation security—so you deserve to feel secure in the choices you make for your family's health.

Service and sacrifice

You live this commitment every day and we thank you.
At Kaiser Permanente, we also have a commitment:
to improve the health of our veterans and their families.

Our mission is to provide you with a personalized care experience unmatched by any other health care provider.

Now that you're back in the civilian world, you have many health care options for you and your family. It's important to understand these choices so you can manage your family's budget and avoid surprises.

As you explore health care options, you may come across terms like POS, PPO, and HMO. These represent different types of health plans where physicians are reimbursed based on the number and types of claims they submit.

It can be very confusing to navigate and understand which doctors are in-network and how much you may or may not be required to pay. Not to mention you're left alone to figure it all out.

With Kaiser Permanente, you're not alone. Much like the Military Health System, Kaiser Permanente physicians and care teams focus on delivering the right care at the right time to keep you and your family healthy. You'll have peace of mind knowing your care teams will closely monitor and coordinate your care based upon your military and medical history.

You have a choice with Kaiser Permanente that feels very familiar—like coming home.

A complete model of care you can trust

Kaiser Permanente is built to provide care much like the military, where hospitals, clinics, and other health care facilities are connected and most services are readily available in one location—like MTFs. Our physicians are trained to provide compassionate and informed care that respects the service of our veteran members, and over 600 of them have served in the Armed Forces themselves.

Our patient-first approach and focus on preventive care—just like the Preventive Maintenance Check and Services (PMCS)—means we can quickly identify and address health conditions often incurred during military service:

- ★ Cancers from toxic or general radiation exposures
- ★ Coronary and other heart diseases
- ★ Infectious diseases
- ★ Mental health conditions such as post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and traumatic brain injuries (TBIs)
- ★ Musculoskeletal conditions
- ★ Neurological conditions
- ★ Pain management
- ★ Respiratory/lung conditions

Relationships that matter

Your Kaiser Permanente physicians know which members have served in the military and can screen and monitor for complex conditions that may appear later.

Your medical history is updated by your care team through your digital health record. This way, they can coordinate and collaborate on your care without you being burdened with sharing past records. Together, you and your doctor can customize a care plan that's right for you and your family.

VA benefits remain unchanged

Rest assured, you can still use your VA benefits alongside Kaiser Permanente, as well as other sources of coverage like TRICARE. This gives you and your family choice and flexibility in how you receive care. We'll even help you submit claims like nexus letters for disability care, so you can get the support you deserve.

Support for you and family

You're not alone. Kaiser Permanente can empower you with a wealth of online resources, tools, and programs to help you stay mentally strong and resilient, including:

- ★ Classes like therapy and support groups, individual counseling sessions, group appointments, and community resources
- ★ Comprehensive addiction and recovery support
- ★ Valuable self-assessment tools to help you evaluate your holistic health and identify conditions like depression
- ★ Self-care apps like Calm and Headspace<sup>1</sup>
- ★ No-cost, on-demand virtual classes for anxiety, mindfulness, and healthy living

Our focus on frequent monitoring and early detection means better health outcomes for you<sup>2</sup>
